

Fr. Maziarz Succeeds Fr. Pax as Dean

STUFF

Fr. Pax Accepts De Paul Post; Named Head of Education Dept.

The Rev. Edward Maziarz will succeed the Rev. Walter Pax as dean of St. Joseph's College at the end of January. Fr. Pax has accepted the chairmanship of the Education Department of De Paul University, Chicago, Ill.

Ordnained in February, 1928, at St. Charles Seminary, Carthegena, Ohio, Fr. Pax enrolled for graduate study seven months later at Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. He received his M.A. in philosophy in June, 1930. After some years of teaching experience at St. Joseph's he returned to Catholic University where he received his Doctor's degree in education in June, 1937. Since then he has been associated with St. Joseph's College as a professor of education, and for the past 11 years as dean of the college. In the summers of 1937-38 he taught at the Catholic University Graduate Extension Center in San Rafael, Cal., just outside San Francisco and in 1939-40 he held the same position at Dubuque, Iowa.

Fr. Pax was named to the 1940 edition of "Who's Who in America" for his outstanding work in the field of education. In 1950 he was appointed Community Director of Education for the Society of the Precious Blood. Since 1937 he has been active in the college direction of student teaching in Indiana and he is now president of the Indiana Unit of the Association for Student Teaching. He annually helps conduct workshops on problems in teacher training and is vice-president of the Midwest Unit of the National Catholic Educational Association.

The ninth in a family of 11 children, Fr. Pax was born at Celina, Ohio in 1903. An older brother, the Rev. Anthony H. Pax, C.P.P.S., '14 died in 1943. Rev. Victor J. Pax, C. P.P. S., '30, a younger brother, is assistant chaplain of the Precious Blood Convent, Dayton, Ohio. Two of Fr.

Press-Science Workshop Scheduled by NFCCS

By Tom Phillipp

St. Joseph's has again been designated as host for the next Fort Wayne Region meeting of the National Federation of Catholic College Students. The combined workshops of the Science Commission, under the chairmanship of Paul Temple of St. Joseph's; the Press Commission, under the co-chairmanship of Jim Plate and Bill Gleason of St. Joseph's; and the regional council meeting, will take place Saturday and Sunday, February 12 and 13.

The opening session will take place at 1:00 p.m. Saturday with a main address on "The Student and Student Community." It is not certain, however, who will be the speaker. The first two of three panel discussions for each commission will follow, one each at 2:30 and 4:00 p.m.

Discussion of Science

For the Science Commission the first discussion will be "The Science Club in Relation to Student Community," to be led by Martha Picot of Marian College; and the second, "Audio-Visual Aids in Reference to Science," will be led by Rita Des Armier of Nazareth College. For the Press commission Clare Watson of St. Francis College will lead "The College Newspaper and Student Community," and Ann McMahon from Nazareth will conduct the second discussion on "The College Newspaper: For Whom? — By Whom?"

Following supper and the basketball game there will be a mixer with Xavier and St. Marys-of-the-Woods, in Raleigh Hall. All St. Joe students are invited.

The Campus Newspaper

Holy Mass at 8:00, followed by breakfast, will precede the third and final panel discussions at 9:30 Sunday. For the Science Commission Paul Temple will conduct the panel on "The Feasibility of a Rotating Regional Science Commission Chairmanship," while St. Marys-of-the-Woods' Jean Banks will lead "The Campus Newspaper: How Much Spiritual? — How Much Standard?" for the Press Commission. A closing plenary session with reports, a review of the workshops, and adjournment will follow at 11:30 a.m.

The regional council meeting will open at 1:00 p.m. Reports of the regional officers and committees, together with various matters of business, will be presented.

Weekend arrangements are being handled by St. Joseph's Senior Delegate John Good.

New Deadline Date Set; Halls to be Finished Apr. 1

By Joe Turk

Bishop Bennett and Archbishop Noll halls will be finished around April 1, instead of March, according to a recent statement by Rev. Joseph A. Otte, treasurer of the college. At present, Bennett Hall is slightly ahead of Archbishop Noll Hall.

All outside masonry has been completed along with the installing of window frames. The walls of the rooms and the wash rooms are currently being erected as are the door frames and shower basins. The wiring and pipes were previously installed.

Each room will have a picture window extending the whole length of the outside wall. The center window has an upper drop-out section and a lower drop-in section. Draw drapes will take the place of window shades.

Feature Lockers, Drawers

For added convenience, each room will have a built-in wardrobe locker and chest of drawers. The bunk beds will be equipped with inner spring mattresses. The 11 x 14 ft. rooms have tiled entrance wall and side walls made of cement block.

To the right of the building entrance will be the lounge and to the left, the two-floor living quarters. Each floor will be equipped with a telephone and a cooled water fountain and each building will have its own incinerator.

Each Building to House 100

The use of homes off campus and the amount of students turned away, both this year and last shows a great need for these two buildings. Tentative plans call for discontinuing use of the homes since they entail a great distance. The new buildings will make possible a larger enrollment next year, as each will house 98 students and two prefects.

The architects are Naess and Murphy of Chicago. Construction was begun in July by E. H. Marhoefer and Co., and dedication of the new buildings will tentively follow sometime in April.

Mr. Kelly Makes Selections of College Movies

By Ray Malik

The college movie theater opened on Friday, Jan. 7, with the showing of "Hans Christian Andersen." Mr. Paul Kelly, associate professor of business administration, is in charge of booking movies and is acting as manager of the theater which is a branch of the Palace Theater in Rensselaer.

The college spent $1,000 erecting the screen and projection booth, with the projectors, projectionist, and other equipment furnished by the Affiliated Theaters Corp. The company also set the admission price. No profit is realized by the college.

The screen is 14 by 26 ft. and the projectors are equipped to show Cinemascope, Vista-Vision, and other new processes.

Two-hour programs are presented and will take place on Saturdays and Sundays at 10:00 p.m. When a mixer or basketball game falls on a Saturday night, the program will take place on Friday at 7:00 p.m.

The theater will show only pictures that are ranked class "A" by the Legion of Decency and which score 10 points in a trade journal of the movie world called "Box-office." The movies are not received more than 6 months from their release date.

Because of cut picture production and the recent predominance of 'B' and 'C' class pictures, the first showings have not been recent releases. The college will work back several months and obtain movies of better quality. It hopes to commence showing recent pictures around April 1.

Coming attractions include: Jan. 22, Above and Beyond; Jan. 23, The Long, Long Trailer; Feb. 4, Francis Joins the Wacs; Feb. 6, Quo Vadis; Feb. 11, Johnny Dark.

Four Receive Diplomas As January Graduates

By Owen Weitzel

The last seniors to graduate from St. Joseph's while Father Pax is still Dean will receive their degree at the end of this semester.

Bernie Dunn, one of the four seniors, has been accepted at two graduate schools—Indiana and St. Louis. As he will graduate with a history major and a sociology minor, both university's offer him a chance to obtain his masters degree in Social Service. Indiana will allow him to enter in February, whereas St. Louis requires that he wait till next fall. For this reason and also because he will be closer to his home in Logansport, Indiana, Bernie feels as though he will enter Indiana University. When he receives his masters degree, he would like to work in a psychiatric institution.

John Dennis will graduate with a degree in accounting and a minor in Philosophy. Following this event, he plans to enter the accounting field to obtain some experience before he takes his CPA exam. He also has hope of entering law school in a few years, although he would first like to obtain his CPA.

Last year John lived on the campus in Drexel Hall, however this semester he has been commuting to his home in Kentland, Indiana.

Ted De Brosse whose home is in Piqua, Ohio, will enter the army as soon as possible after graduation. While at St. Joseph's he majored in geology and minored in history.

He plans to go to graduate school after his two years in the army are finished. There he hopes to work toward a masters degree in geology. This being completed, he would like to work for some oil company and obtain valuable experience. Eventually he feels as though he would like to teach geology in school.

The army still holds uncertainty for Ed Zander and his wife. However, until that time, Ed, who is a marketing major would like to obtain some experience in that field. If that is not possible, he would like to follow through with the minor of physical ed. and work as a recreation supervisor in a Chicago school.

Gramelspacher Among SJC Trustees

The election of Clarence U. Gramelspacher of Jasper, Ind., to the Board of Lay Trustees of St. Joseph's College has been announced by college officials.

Mr. Gramelspacher, 57, is manager of the Jasper Wood Products Co., a company he helped to organize in 1924. In addition to this position, Mr. Gramelspacher is a member of the Elks Club, past president of the Jasper Conservation Club and the Jasper Chamber of Commerce, and has served as treasurer of the State Democratic Committee for 7 years. He served as board member of the Indiana State Police Safety Department under the Townsend and Schriker administrations.

Mr. Clarence Gramelspacher

Mr. Gramelspacher's election to the Board of Lay Trustees brings to 14, the total of members in this advisory group.

Mardis Gras

The annual Mardi Gras dance will be held in Ralieg Hall on the evening of Feb. 19. Pat Evard and Frank Unger have been named as co-chairmen of the dance, which is sponsored by the Student Council.

The chairmen have not yet announced who the band will be, but say that this matter should be decided soon. The Mardi Gras is the last dance before Lent and the Council expects to have a good attendance.

IM A COLLEGE CHEERLEADER.

Collegeville Advances

With the start of the new year, many changes are being made or will be made in the near future here at the college. The majority of these changes are all for the better, although at least one of them is tinged with a sense of great loss.

We refer to the release of Rev. Walter T. Pax from his duties as dean of the college. Fr. Pax has more than capably served as dean for eleven years and has been prominent in many state educational projects since coming to the campus in 1937. Rev. Edward Maziarz will assume the duties of dean at the end of the current semester. In the name of the entire school, Stuff sincerely wishes them both the very greatest success in their new work.

Another important addition being made is the construction of the two new resident halls on the west edge of the campus. From all appearances, the halls are of latest design, with many advances over some of the older-type buildings on the campus. The chief disadvantage found in the construction of these halls lies in their remote location in respect to the rest of the community. But upon their completion, the school should at least have housing facilities adequate to discontinue the use of town houses for upperclassmen.

The introduction of a campus theater is also an excellent step in the advancement of college recreational facilities. This is a non-profit endeavor which has been undertaken solely for the entertainment of the students, so let's show our appreciation by attending as many features as possible.

With a little cooperation, the new year can bring with it many steps towards the advancement of St. Joseph's among the top-ranking small colleges of the Mid-west.

Bishop's Condition Critical

St. Joseph's favorite alumnus is in critical condition in St. Elizabeth Hospital in Lafayette. The Most Rev. John G. Bennett, D.D., '09, Bishop of the Lafayette diocese became seriously ill Saturday, Jan. 8, two days before his and the diocese's tenth anniversary.

He was taken to the hospital at the time of his first heart attack on Saturday morning. Since then he has suffered additional attacks leaving him in critical condition. At the doctor's suggestion, Extreme Unction was administered to the bishop.

Bishop Bennett was to serve as celebrant at the anniversary Mass in St. Mary's Cathedral Jan. 10. At his request, the Most Rev. Leo A. Pursley, D.D., '21, Auxiliary Bishop of the Fort Wayne Diocese, served as celebrant.

The Most Rev. Paul C. Schulte, D.D., Archbishop of Indianapolis, gave the sermon and expressed the blessings of Bishop Bennett to those present. The archbishop spoke of the tremendous growth and progress of the Lafayette diocese during its ten year existence, all under the guidance of Bishop Bennett.

The Sanguinist Club has collected a spiritual bouquet for the bishop in honor of his tenth anniversary. We know the students will add to this their prayers for the bishop's speedy recovery.

Make a special effort to get to Mass and Communion this week and offer your prayers for the bishop's benefit. Bishop Bennett has a special place in his heart for St. Joseph's. He has contributed much toward the progress of the college in recent years. Now is our chance to show our thanks by offering our prayers at Mass for his recovery.

Bishop Bennett needs our prayers; he is a former St. Joe student and we St. Joe men stick together.

Auggie Braves Rec Hall Mixer

Well, our hero came through his first harrowing adventure without a scar. But little does he know the fate that awaits him, for Auggie is destined to go to a mixer at St. Joe's.

The momentous decision came after Auggie discovered that he lost all his money in the pin-ball machine and couldn't afford to go to the show. He'd be darned if he was going to stay in his room on a weekend. After all, he did have a .02 index—he didn't need to study. That afternoon he had heard some guys talking about a mixer so he decided, since it was free, he may as well go.

Aug wanted to look good. That afternoon he got a flat-top DA haircut with 7 inch sideburns.

That night Auggie dressed for the big affair. He put on his charcoal blue pants with the white stitching, a pink shirt with a Mr. B. collar, and a light-up box tie. He topped this combination off with his 3 tone sport-coat with duals.

Having finished dressing, he sauntered cockily over to the rec hall, confident that the other guys didn't have a chance with him around. As he approached the door he saw a wild, howling mass of guys, about 450 in number. Slowly, he fought his way to the inside where the girls were to be. He imagined they would be rather wild since he heard some guys say that they were from the woods or something like that, but he saw no girls. He fought his way to the dance floor and still no girls. At last, he spotted them—25 huddled in a group, surrounded by a howling group of Frosh.

The music that night was played by Nick Knowledge and his nine nasty notetakers. As the band struck up a danceable number, "The St. Joe Fight Song," Auggie leaped into the crowd and grabbed a girl. It turned out she was 6 foot 3 and was a three letter girl at school—football, basketball, and wrestling. He felt rather odd dancing with her considering he is only 5 foot 2.

After the dance he politely thanked her and galloped away. Remembering this experience, Auggie was afraid to dance the rest of the night. He stood around shyly and watched the future Arthur Murrys strut their stuff as the music reached a fever pitch. The rhythm overcame him and he started to tap his feet.

He silently wished that he could get a girl and do some fancy dancing. As he stepped back, keeping time with the music, he came in contact with a red hot radiator. As quick as a flash Auggie was in the middle of the dance floor doing a jitterbug that would put Sheree North to shame. Everyone cleared the floor, forming a circle around Auggie and the girl he had accidentally picked up. When he cooled down, the music stopped and the appreciative audience burst into wild applause. Auggie bowed and proudly strutted off the floor. He left the mixer right then and there, proud of the exhibition he had put on at this mixer and anxious to attend the next.

$4,000 Contest For TV Writers

A $4,000 literary contest open to all college students in the United States and Canada is being sponsored by the Christophers. The purpose of the contest is to discover writers with fresh new ideas for the field of television.

The Christopher program is keyed to people in all walks of life with particular emphasis on the power of each person to improve the vital fields of education, government, labor relations, literature, and entertainment.

The prizes for the contest have been divided as follows: $1,000, second prize-$750, third prize-$500, fourth prize-$250, and 15 prizes of $100 each. Additional information for all those interested in entering the contest can be obtained from Joel Francoeur in Noll Hall.

The Canoe

By John White and Chuck Vietzen

Once again it's that old time which we all dread—Finals. With the end of another semester we hear many plans for the future. But, as usual, we also hear some gripes and groans from the discontented and habitual complainers. There is one interesting fact about these few (and they are a very definite minority), however. If one were to have these persons list their activities here on campus, he would see that they are actually the duller and least energetic people on campus. So it is that we ask these students a few simple questions: How much have you given St. Joe? How much have you tried to further it's good name? How many clubs have you joined? How many sports (varsity or intramural) are you out for? How many games do you go to? How much do you cheer? How many student trips have you taken advantage of? How many mixers have you attended? How many events in the auditorium have you gone to? How high is your Index?

We could go on and on with these questions but they would all add up to the same one—How active are you? We are sure that these students would be ashamed to answer all or most of these questions. Fortunately, as we have said, these are a great minority, but they are, nevertheless, the loudest. To them we can only quote an old proverb—"You only get out of something what you put into it."

At Long Last

We are happy to announce that some changes have been made in the cheerleading situation here on campus. In response to queries made to them by the student body, the Student Council has conducted an appeal to the students to try out for cheerleading. Although the response has not been as much as expected the quality of the material has been more than adequate. With the addition of new cheerleaders has also come the advent of new cheers. Seven of these new cheers were demonstrated at the DePauw game. With the hope of additional help in the matter, a step in the right direction has been taken.

Under the direction of Jim Zid a new program was set up. Some of the more prominent proposals were that new cheers would be demonstrated to the students as soon as possible in order to acquaint the Collegevillagers with them. This was done first in the dorm to provide a large enough group to learn the cheers in a short time. Along with this was the thought that possibly a Puma suit could be secured for the games, together with the acquisition of new cheerleader's uniforms. Another possibility brought up was the providing of entertainment between the halves, such as the mock football game which was held last year. Still another proposal was the raising of the cheerleaders to the status of a campus club, which might provide further incentive to join the group.

From the start this has been largely a freshmen project under the leadership of Tom Ryan, the class President. The majority of the new cheerleaders are members of this class. Those at present in the group are Bill Walters, Ron Cole, Joe Bak, Urb Thobe, and Carl Jaeger. In the words of one of the new cheerleaders "We'll either dig up school spirit, or put the seal on the coffin."

The Saints Went Marching In

Despite a recent 78-67 loss for the Pumas at the hands of the Valpo Crusaders a victory was obtained when the Saint-Joe-ites marched into the latter's fieldhouse and dealt them a severe lesson in school spirit. From the first sounds of "Pumas, Pumas!" minutes before game time, through an early Valpo surge and late Puma rally, and finally a hard-to-take defeat, it was the Pumaville fans' game all the way. A St. Joe player even went so far as to say that it was the best cheering he had heard in three years and a Valpoite had to admit that that evening there was more noise in that gymnasium than in the rest of the year combined.

Note: To the President of the Student Body of Valparaiso U.: In our return match to be held at the St. Joe Fieldhouse later this year we can promise you two things we did not get and one thing we did: Respectively, good seats, common courtesy during free throws, and a defeat!

Hatched and Matched

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cappuccilli on the recent birth of their son, Anthony Joseph.

Congrats also in line for five students for their recent engagements. They are Seniors Hugo Pennington, Willie Kellogg, and Tom Dudeck; Junior Tim O'Brien, and Soph Joe Lukasik. Also to Frank Socha, ex '55.

PUMATTERS

By Dick Oberfell

Ready! Aim! Fire! Following the semester break the Pumas will set their sights on the remaining six conference games. St. Joe has only one way to go in the standings and if this is to be attained it must be done on the road. The remainder of the schedule will permit the student body to see the Scharfmen tangle with three ICC teams on the home court. Indiana State invades Pumaville on Feb. 3, Ball State Feb. 16, and Valpo closes the season on March 2. But as in previous years, we can't win away from home. If this handicap could be overcome, there would be a definite change in the league standings.

The accurate shooting of Ray Banary and the point getting of Don Merki somewhat compensate for the dismal showing of the Pumas so far this year. Banary, who is sidelined with an injured hand, has connected on 22 of his 33 shots for a league leading .667.

With half of the season behind him, Don has the highest average in the ICC. The Puma center has scored 130 points in five games for a 26.0 game average, he ranks 15th in the nations small college scoring, and has the second best average of the small colleges in the state.

Sports in Spots . . . Coach Jim Beane's J-V squad has a 2-3 record. Bob Pierce, DePauw sharpshooting guard, established a new free throw percentage mark against the Pumas. Pierce hit all of his 14 free throws. Two of Milan State champions faced the Pumas this year. Bob Plump performed with the Butler Bulldogs and Gene White is on the Franklin roster. Don Merki set two conference free throw records against DePauw. Don connected on 23 of his 27 charity tosses thus breaking the most free throws attempted and made in one game records.

The Pumas also wrote a new team record by attempting 60 free throws in the DePauw game. Gerald Wenzel, who starred with the St. Joe football team in 1952, was voted the most outstanding lineman by the Quantico Marines.

Willie Kellogg is averaging 16 points per game in ICC competition, and Don Merki is leading the league in rebounds.

The A.P. reports that Hamilton College in New York had to cancel all its home swimming schedule because it didn't have enough water to fill the pool. In the same line, a fan at Hastings High in Michigan chinned himself on a water sprinkler while waiting for a game to start. He flooded the gymnasium. The "Little 500" at Indiana University was abandoned because someone sprinkled tacks on the track.

Willard Kellogg, senior guard on the basketball team, is one of the main sparkplugs of the squad on both offense and defense.

Grizzlies Beaten 75-61 by SJC

It took St. Joseph's just 10 minutes of basketball to rid themselves of the effects of the holiday; then they shook loose from a stubborn Franklin five and raced to a 75-61 victory.

After leading the Grizzlies by only five points at the 10-minute mark, the Pumas opened the gap to a 38-25 margin at halftime and continued to pull away in the early minutes of the second half until they boasted a 51-39 lead.

Franklin managed to cut the lead to eight points, 64-56, with four minutes remaining, but the Pumas rallied for seven straight points to ice the game.

Center Don Merki added 31 points to his record-total. Seventeen of Merki's points came from the free throw line. Guard Tim O'Brien collected 14 points for the Pumas, 12 of them coming in the first half.

Sophomore Elmer Stautman and freshman Al Martin led Franklin with 16 points apiece. Phil Ruffalo added 11 more to the losers' total.

Scharfmen Defeat DePauw; Four ICC Records Fall

Crusaders Halt Rally; Pumas Fall Into ICC Cellar

Valparaiso's Crusaders, boosted to an 18-point halftime lead by the shooting of Jim Howard, fought off a last-ditch St. Joseph's rally and downed the Pumas 78-67 in an Indiana Collegiate Conference game at Valpo on Jan. 7.

After trailing 38-20 at intermission, and 48-30 early in the second half, the Pumas came roaring back on the outside shooting of Tim O'Brien and Willie Kellogg and the rebounding of substitute Terry McCarthy, to close the gap to 66-62 with five minutes remaining. Seconds later, two free throws by Chet Pilat left the Pumas trailing by two points, 68-66, and brought the crowd up screaming.

But Kellogg and O'Brien fouled out and Valpo quickly tallied 10 points to the Pumas' one to capture their fifth victory in 13 starts. It was loss number six for the Pumas; they have won three.

Howard was the big gun for the Crusaders with 33 points for the evening. Eighteen of these came in the first half. Center Bob Jarm added 14 to the Valpo total and guard Don Wilbrandt scored 10 MacCarthy, who came off the bench to replace Pilat late in the first half, and Kellogg shared the high-point honors for St. Joe with 14 points apiece. Twelve of MacCarthy's points came in the Pumas' second half drive. Don Merki, leading scorer in the conference, was held to 13 points. Merki is now averaging 24 points per game.

Chet Pilat, SJ forward, goes up for two points as the Pumas lose to Valpo 78-67. Pilat scored 10 points in the contest.

It was the first loss of the new year for St. Joe, having previously defeated Franklin College 75-61 on Jan. 5 at Collegeville.

DePauw, on Jan. 12, and Butler, on Jan. 18, are the next opponents for St. Joe.

fouls were called. St. Joe's Don Merki established new marks with his 27 free throw attempts and 23 successful tosses. The 36 free throws scored by the Pumas broke the old mark of 34 held by Butler University.

The Tigers moved ahead early in the game and clung tenaciously to the lead until a basket by Willie Kellogg gave St. Joe a 60-59 lead with eight minutes remaining. But the Bengals went back into the lead on a basket by Bob Schrier and held the advantage until John Tully, a substitute guard, put St. Joe back in front with a left-handed shot under the basket to give the Pumas the edge, 70-69 with two minutes left. Merki dropped in four free throws and Kellogg and Tully added two-pointers as St. Joseph's fought off DePauw's dying grasp.

Merki added five field goals to his 23 free throws, leading both teams in scoring with 33 points. Kellogg had 17 and Tim O'Brien 14 for St. Joe. Pierce topped the visitors with 20-points, while Bob Schrier added 19.

The St. Joe Pumas will take no semester break this year as they tangle with Great Lakes and Illinois Wesleyan following their tussle with the exams.

The Bluejackets will act as hosts to the barnstorming Pumas on Jan. 28. The Jackets, led by center Don Tucker, have compiled a 6-5 record so far this season. Tucker, a 6'4" pivot man, is the team's leading scorer with a 17.2 average in 12 games. The high scoring center played freshman at Miami of Ohio before entering Benton Harbor. Ben Bishop and Norm Banas will hold down the forward positions for the sailor quintet. Bishop is the team's third high point-getter and Banas ranks fourth in team scoring. Banas won letters in baseball, football, and basketball at Purdue University.

Don Cox is a starting guard and playmaker of the squad. Cox is carrying a 10 point average and will double with Gordy Olson in the back court.

The sailors handed the Pumas an 108-73 beating in their last meeting.

The following evening St. Joe meets Illinois Wesleyan at Weber Gym in Chicago. Wesleyan bettered the Pumas last year 89-73.

Highlighting the after semester vacation will be return engagements with ICC foes Butler and Indiana State. The Sycamores invade Pumaville on Feb. 3, and St. Joe travels to Indianapolis on Feb. 8.

Berries, Shooting Stars Head IM Standing

As the first round in the intramural basketball league draws to a close, three teams in each league are fighting for the honored spot. In the "A" league the Berries, an entire freshman group, lead the pack with a spotless 4-0 mark. The league leaders beat the Hungry 5, Student Council winner, and edged the Beef Trusters, runner-up in the pre-season tourney, 34-33. The Po Dos follow the Berries with a 3-1 mark. Their only loss coming at the hands of the leaders.

A last second hook shot by Rebel Zeke Call knocked the previous undefeated Stars from the top position in league "B". The loss dropped the Stars into a two way tie for second place with the Rebels. The Shooting Stars are out in front with four wins and no setbacks. The Shooting Stars have yet to meet the Stars in league play.

A three way duel highlights league "C" with the Rockets, Eagles, and Vets all knotted with three and one records. The Shieks follow with a two and one mark. The standings are:

James Bogan Analyzes Stock Market For St. Joe Commerce Club

On Jan. 10, the Commerce Club, under the leadership of John Gorman, staged another informative talk on some phase of business. The speaker for this event was Mr. James Bogan, alumnus and former registrar of the college.

When he left the post of registrar at St. Joseph's, Mr. Bogan began work at Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Beane, the largest stock brokerage company in the world. The Chicago office is located at Michigan and Wacker Drive.

During his talk, Mr. Bogan stated that the current stock market is surpassing the record high of the 1920's. The same amount of confusion and uncertainty exists as no one knows how far the boom will go. To avoid another crash like the tragic fall of 1929, the government is tightening the margin requirements. This is one means of preventing the economy from collapsing.

The mechanics of purchasing stock and the soundness of investing idle money in productive securities were among the other topics discussed in the course of the evening.

A fifteen minute question and answer period climaxed the session. Many of the members remained after the talk and Mr. Bogan discussed further the opportunities for college graduates in the Stock Market field.

Mr. James Bogan, alumnus and former registrar of the college, gave an informative talk to the members of the Commerce Club on the evening of Jan. 10. Mr. Bogan, who is presently employed by a large stock brokerage company, spoke of the current stock market and the openings in this field for today's college graduates.

Juilliard Quartet Well Received At Collegeville

by Charles Rohan

It was certainly one of the highlights of this year's entertainment program when the better part of the student body gathered in the college auditorium on Jan. 10 to listen to the Juilliard String Quartet. Approximately 250 students, faculty members and visitors attended. A definite improvement could be noticed in the participation at these so worthwhile events.

The program was very well chosen and was composed of three representative masterpieces of three great musical epochs. The Quartet in G Major by Hayden might well be called a typical example of musical classicism. This piece in parts, technically quite difficult, gave the group an excellent opportunity to display their brilliant touch and was performed in an equally grand manner. It showed the artists' superb ability to play Romantic music with just the right interpretative know-how.

After the intermission the Juilliard String Quartet presented an outstanding example of Nationalistic music, Dvorak's Quartet in F Major. The quartet's interpretation of the "American" was equally perfect to their technical mastery of the work. Deserving a special notice was the wonderful coordination and blending the quartet displayed throughout the concert.

This was the Juilliard String Quartet's first concert on a tour across the United States. During the fall the quartet will go to Europe where it has engagements in various countries. They also hold a permanent job as members of the faculty of the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

Party for New Students

A Student Council get-together for new students is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 3, in Noll Hall lounge. The gathering will be for members of the Council and faculty, together with about 50 new students.

Mr. Paul Kelly, who is in charge of the campus movies, announced that the college is making no money on the showing of the films, and that the present admission price of 45c may be cut in the near future. Anyone will be admitted to the improvised theater, although it is primarily for the students.

Council to Get Gift for Fr. Pax

Bill Bazil has been appointed by the Council to investigate the possibility of purchasing a gift for Rev. Walter Pax, who has accepted the position of Dean of Education at De Paul University in Chicago. The student trip to Valpo sold 160 tickets. The Council has not yet determined which class has won the prize for the best attendance at the game.

Glee Club Plans Spring Trips To Chicago, Ohio

Rev. Lawrence Heiman, director of the glee club, announces the shaping up of the spring concert schedule, the singing at the wedding of the alumnus James Gehring on Feb. 19 in San Pierre, Ind., and the installation of an acoustical ceiling in the band room.

A public concert in Thorne Hall in Chicago on April 17, and a concert for the Villa Scalabrini Banquet in the Conrad Hilton Hotel on April 24 highlight the spring schedule. Public concerts at Defiance and Glandorf, Ohio, on April 25 and 26 respectively are included in the glee club's appearances away from home.

A choral festival with the glee club of St. Francis College in Joliet and the Extension chorus is planned for the tentative date of April 27 in the college auditorium. A short concert for parents on May 1, Parents Day, is also planned.

The new acoustical ceiling, installed in the band room over the Christmas Holidays, greatly improves the room for glee club practices, according to Fr. Heiman.

The Council appointed John Quinn to meet with the athletic department on the possibility of changing school colors. A suggested set of colors is green and white.

Four Day Week End Planned

The free day for Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, has been postponed until the week end of March 5. This will give the students a break of four days over the week-end.

There will be a mixer at Rosary College Feb. 5, to which St. Joe's has been invited. Possible plans for a series of Bingos during Lent were announced and discussed by the Council.

New Dean.

Pax's sisters are nuns in the Society of the Precious Blood. They are Sister M. Leontine, C.P.P. S., principal of Immaculate Heart high school, Celina, Ohio and Sister M. Stanislaus, C.P.P. S., who teaches in the parochial school at Columbus Grove, Ohio.

His successor, Fr. Maziarz, was ordained on September 8, 1940, at St. Charles Seminary, Carthegena, Ohio. Fr. Maziarz received his M. A. from Catholic University in 1941 with a major in philosophy. After two years of teaching at St. Joseph's he enrolled in the University of Michigan and received his M. S., with a major in mathematics, in 1945. He received his Ph.D. in 1949 from the University of Ottawa. Since that time he has been associate professor of Philosophy at St. Joseph's.

The new-dean is well known for his work in philosophy, a number of his writings having been published. (Continued In Column Four)

Geology Club Plans Semester Activities

By Dick Bender

The Geology Club will close activities for the first semester with a meeting Jan. 19. The meeting will feature a talk by Mr. Claude Roberts, district representative of the U. S. Geological survey. The subject of his address will be "groundwater."

The club's second semester schedule is not yet complete, but tentative plans include several movies, talks, and a geological field trip. The movies will deal with various topics of geological interest.

One of the speakers to appear before the club next semester is Dr. Thomas Perry, of the Indiana University department of geology. His lecture will deal with the study of paleontology or fossil life. The club also hopes to hear Dr. Elmar Walter, of St. Joseph's geology department, in an illustrated lecture on his geological experiences throughout Europe. Dates for these talks, as well as the spring field trip, will be announced later.

Club Pin

The organization is sponsoring several major projects. It has adopted a club pin. Designed by one of the members, these pins should be available to members in the near future.

Another project is establishment of the John Hruzik Memorial, in honor of the late St. Joseph alumnus and geology student. A plaque inscribed with his name will be erected in the geology department. In connection with this, the club has set up a memorial award, to be given each year to the most outstanding club member. Besides the award, the deserving member will have his name enrolled on the plaque.

Blaesing President

In recent activities, new officers were elected. Jerry Blaesing became president, succeeding Frank Hirsch, now in the Armed Services. George Kirkpatrick was elected vice-president, to fill the post formerly held by Blaesing, Emil Janc and John Cheevers are secretary and treasurer, respectively. Geology Club membership currently stands at 36.

For the past semester Fr. Maziarz has been prefect of Washburn Manor. This position will now be filled by Hugh McAvoy, Alumni Coordinator.
